This study was conducted using 4 stages of historical research. The first is the heuristic stage collection in the form of books, articles, etc. The second source of criticism is testing data by conducting internal and external criticism of the authenticity of the data obtained. The third interpretation is the interpretation of data so that it becomes a meaningful fact. The final stage is the writing of history in the form of a thesis. INTRODUCTION
In 1997 Mestika Zed wrote the book Somewhere in the Jungle: emergency Government of the Republic of Indonesia, A Forgotten link (hereinafter referred to as SIJ-PDRI). The book was awarded as the Best Book of IKAPI/Ministry of Education and Culture in the Social Sciences in 1999. The book was written based on the research of relatively complete archives and libraries. It is also supported by Field Research in West Sumatra (Jasmi, 2019).

Before the publication of the SIJ-PDRI book, The History of PDRI barely got space in the common memory of the Indonesian people. At the time of the Old Order and The New Order, the PDRI did not have a proper place in the writing of national history. Sukarno with the Old Order and Suharto with the New Order saw PDRI no relationship with PRRI (Asnan, 2019).

The lack of historical narrative space for PDRI during the old and new orders made the existence of PDRI almost forgotten. Almost no works or writings were made and published about PDRI. Evidence of the lack of PDRI in the writing of Indonesian history during the Old Order and New Order can be seen from when the Minangkabau history book was written and the temporal limitations of the book until 1950, the existence and activities of PDRI received only a relatively small portion of the discussion (Asnan, 2006).

In line with that, PDRI figures almost have no place in the nation's historical stage during the Old Order and New Order. In an atmosphere of lack of writing about the history of PDRI and appreciation of PDRI figures, Mestika Zed's book entitled SIJ-PDRI was published. Historiographically, Mestika Zed's contribution in writing the history of Indonesia in general and West Sumatra in particular can be said to be relatively phenomenal, especially in the history of PDRI.

The publication of the SIJ-PDRI book had a significant impact on the nation's common memory. The book became the rationale for the establishment of the National Day of National Defense Day which is celebrated every December 19. History of State Defense Day commemoration sourced from the declaration of the emergency Government of the Republic of Indonesia (PDRI) on December 19, 1948 by Sjafrudin Prawiranegara in Bukittinggi (Rulyani, 2016).

Not only that, after the publication of the SIJ-PDRI book, The Indonesian government also appreciated PDRI figures, such as Sjafrudin Prawiranegara by awarding him as a national hero on November 7, 2011, based on Presidential Decree No.113/TK/2011. Before the publication of the SIJ-PDRI book (both during the Old Order and during the New Order), the name of this figure Sjafrudin Prawiranegara and other PDRI figures were almost taboo to mention in the national history book even though Syafruddin had served as head of the Indonesian government. Book SIJ-PDRI, until now still the main reference in the study of the history of PDRI. This work is also a reference, when the government recognizes the PDRI as part of the Indonesian independence struggle.
There are two things behind this writing: first, until now there is no one work that tries to do a historiographical review of the effects or meaning of the work of Mestika Zed SJ-PDRI for the history of the nation and its characters. The works tend to show the figure of Mestika Zed and PDRI. Some of the works that appear such as the work of Gusti Asnan, et al Mestika Zed Star generation of Indonesian historians 80s. There is almost no discussion that examines the influence or meaning of Mestika Zed SJ-PDRI's work on State Defense day and recognition of PDRI figures. Second, the spirit of reform that makes the emergence of a critical attitude of scientists or historians, especially against the history of PDRI. Based on the above background, the author feels it is important to examine the effects of the “work of Mestika Zed SJ-PDRI and its meaning for the history of PDRI and PDRI figures in the history of the nation”.

The purpose of this study is to explain how the writing-writing PDRI history after the publication of the book SIJ-PDRI? What are the historical events related to PDRI that were carried out after the publication of the SIJ-PDRI book? How far is the relationship between the publication of the SIJ-PDRI book and the recognition of PDRI figures and State Defense day?.

The benefits of this study are as a benchmark for the author's ability to research, analyze and reconstruct an event and present it in the form of scientific papers, as well as adding and enriching the repertoire of science related to Mestika Zed and PDRI as a separate science from history for both academic and non-academic circles.

METHODS

The steps taken by this writing are to follow the historical method, namely: first, collecting books or writings about PDRI that were published after the publication of the SIJ-PDRI book by Mestika Zed that are relevant to studies conducted through library studies.

Library studies were conducted in various places, namely the library of the Department of history of UNAND, the library of the Faculty of FIB UNAND, the library of UNAND, the library of the Department of History Education of UNP, the Reading Room of PKSBE UNP, and other places where sources relevant to this study are available such as books from the Indonesian Historical Society PDRI:

Second. Is the stage of criticism is the stage of selection and testing of data, both externally and internally. At this stage, the author criticizes the source so that the data obtained becomes relevant data. So that the existence of the data can be accounted for.

Third. Is the stage of analysis and interpretation of the works under study were elaborated and explained based on certain categories in accordance with the purpose of research without comparing sources in the context of right or wrong, then proceed with the interpretation (interpretation).

Fourth, present the findings into the form of research reports or historiography (historical writing).

RESULTS AND DISCUSSION
Works about PDRI published after the publication of the book SIJ-PDRI
Since the publication of Mestika Zed's book about PDRI, the government began to make room for PDRI in writing the history of the nation. Therefore, the story of PDRI also began to be in demand by researchers and students to be the object of research in order to make their final project (thesis) there are several books published. Among them, namely:

First, a book written by Ismael Hassan entitled The Last Days of the PDRI, a book consisting of 119 Pages published in 2002 and published by the PDRI 54th Anniversary Committee. The selection of topics used by Ismael Hassan, perhaps considering the story of the PDRI has been in detail produced by Mestika Zed, but most of the books that exist, end only on the discussion of the return of all Republican leaders to Jakarta including guerrilla war leaders. Ismael Hassan wants to show what makes his work different from other books about PDRI (Hassan, 2002).

Second, the book written by Amrin Imran, Saleh A. Djamhari and J.R Chaniago entitled PDRI in the war of Independence, a book consisting of 334 pages published in 2003 and published by Nusantara. intentionally or not, this work did not participate in describing how the PDRI in Kototinggi led by West Sumatra resident Mr. St. Mohammad Rasjid. As explained in the book Mestika Zed, in the Kototinggi area experienced two tragic events that befell the PDRI group and the local community, which stelah analyzed again it was a negligence or negligence of the civilian and military in maintaining security (Imran, 2003).

Third, a book written by Zusneli Zubir entitled Andil Masyarakat Bidar Alam, South Solok during the PDRI 1949, a book consisting of 71 pages published in 2007 and published by the Ministry of Culture and Tourism of the Padang historical and Traditional Values Preservation Center. The selection of topics used by Zusneli Zubir, perhaps considering the story of PDRI has been in detail produced by Mestika Zed where in his book SIJ-PDRI on page 125 as many as 5 pages, Mestika Zed explains quite a lot of the contribution or role of the Bidar Alam community against PDRI fighters (Zubir, 2007).

Fourth, a book written by Saiful SP entitled Luhak Lima Puluh Kota the basis of Emergency Government of the Republic of Indonesia, a book published in 2009 and published by the Department of Culture and Tourism of fifty cities. Saiful's work briefly describes the second Dutch military aggression and the process of forming the PDRI. The study used by Saiful to produce this book is a literature review on the works of PDRI that already exist before. This can be seen from the description of the same event with several existing works and also footnotes that Saiful included in his book one of the books that became a reference or footnote of saiful's work is the work of Mestika Zed SIJ-PDRI (SP, 2009).

Fifth, a book written by Fajar Rillah Vesky entitled Tambluak: about PDRI & Situjuah events, a book consisting of 116 pages published in 2010 and published by Yayasan Citra Budaya Indonesia and Luhak Limopuluh Press. According to Fajar in his book that Tambiluak cannot be called a traitor behind this Situjuh event, while according to Mestika Zed in the Singgalang daily newspaper on January 15, 1996, he said that Tambiluak was not a traitor. Mestika Zed confirmed that there is no strong evidence that Tambiluak is a traitor behind the Situjuh events (Rillah, 2008).

Sixth, a book written by Feni Efendi entitled traces of the forgotten, a book consisting of 327 pages published in 2019 and published by JBS. The book written by Feni is a national best seller. In fact, the leading historian Mestika Zed, when giving an appreciative introduction to this book said;"Although I have written an episode of PDRI history, which is more or less the same as what was written by Sdr Feni Efendi, from the beginning I realized that my book was still lacking a lot. Especially the reconstruction of micro-local history that the authors of this book are trying to dig up again" (Efendi, 2019).

Not only that, writing about PDRI history is influenced by SIJ-PDRI books and Mestika Zed in the form of books. Many are also in demand by researchers and students to be the object of research in order to make the final project (thesis) and papers.

Historical Events Related to PDRI After The Publication of the Book SIJ-PDRI

According to Uyung Sulaksana, an expert in the field of Management, an event is an event organized to communicate a certain message to an audience or target. So it can be concluded that the definition and understanding of historical events is a program or event that will be carried out in a planned manner for a specific purpose related to history or historical events. In this case the events in question are events related to the book Mestika Zed SIJ-PDRI or related to Mestika Zed especially after the publication of the book SIJ-PDRI. e. Tracing Back PDRI

Tracing back means to walk or trace back the road that has been traversed by someone, troops and so on to remember the journey during the war or past history so the tradition of Trail is interpreted as a hereditary custom to travel by someone, a group for the sake of remembering past history. This commemorated Trail activity is evidence that the next generation can appreciate the services of heroes and hope that this tradition can continue to develop and be preserved.

The tradition of the tracing back was held by the National Command (KONAS), student Regiment (MENWA) Indonesia which was held at the national level to commemorate the State Defense Day which fell on 16 to 19 December 2017. The basic idea of this trail activity is to enliven the State Defense Day on December 19, 2017, increase the patriotism of love of the Fatherland among the younger generation, as well as training leadership, noble character, appreciation and respect for the services of heroes who have died on the battlefield, in order to better interpret the meaning of true independence.

The route that will be taken on foot from Bukittinggi to Tugu Bela Negara is 65.9 kilometers long. This trail will be followed by a thousand menwa representatives from 33 provinces, representatives of Indonesian menwa alumni, and representatives of community and youth organizations (OKP) in West Sumatra. This trail takes the route of PDRI struggle in Bukittinggi City, Agam Regency, Payakumbuh City, and in fifty cities. This trail begins with a seminar with keynote speakers by Vice Chairman of the House of Representatives Fadli Zon and Minister of Youth and Sports Imam Nahrawi. the speakers were the governor of West Sumatra Irwan Prayitno, historian Mestika Zed, Pangdam I/Bukit Barisan, Dankonas Menwa Indonesia and two historical actors.

The tradition of the Trail is held to commemorate the history of the PDRI and the heroes involved in it not only once, but every year the government in West Sumatra...
Sumatra commemorates the history of the PDRI which is a great history in the country of Indonesia which became the savior of Indonesian independence. moreover, after the collapse of the Old Order regime and The New Order and the peak after the publication of the book Mestika Zed SIJ-PDRI (Afrizal, 2017).

f. Construction of PDRI Museum in Koto Tinggi

Museums are institutions that are torn down for the general public. The Museum serves to collect, maintain/care for and present and preserve the cultural heritage of the community for the purpose of study, research, and fun or entertainment. Meanwhile, according to caleb setiawan, the museum is a building to place a collection of objects to be researched, studied and enjoyed.

The idea of the need for a State defense Monument/PDRI Museum is quite simple; reminding the public or today’s generation, without PDRI perhaps the Republican episode would have ended in 1948. And hopefully able to revive the spirit of patriotism of the community. In December 2010, Purnomo Yusgiantoro, who was the Minister of Defense at that time, came up with the idea to build the Bela Negara monument as a form of remembering the services of the PDRI for the existence of the Republic (Uci Yusri Novita, 2020).

In 2010, Muslim Kasim came to Koto Tinggi. A meeting was held at the Kampung Tingga mosque, so that it became an opportunity for the community to convey unek-unek, including disagree with the policies that have been set. “We reveal the involvement of the community, no less than 1500 packs of rice donated by the community. 750 days, 750 nights. Not yet material, not yet lives, continue to tribute like a tax. It was for 7 months, what paid off 3 days of events in Halaban”. As a result, Muslim Kasim, who is the chairman of the PDRI Monas Development Committee in West Sumatra, reviewed the provisions regarding the Halaban of the monas construction site. Not long after, about 1 month, several community leaders were told to face the official House by Alis Marajo. Alis, he said, supports Koto high, because he knows the history. Then he looked for a gap. The investigation; the community is encouraged to make a letter, addressed to President Yudhoyono, Chairman of the DPR, Danlanud, DHD ‘45 administrators, and all elements involved. “Then a seminar was held in Jakarta to review the history of PDRI. Participants Adityawarman Taha, Jasri Marin, Gamawan Fauzi, Amir Sarifuddin, Mestika Zed, Algamar, and others”. In the seminar, strengthening Koto Tinggi deserved to be the location of the PDRI Monas establishment. But the decree stipulates not the seminar person, but the governor based on the results of the seminar (Yose Hendra, 2019).
Mestika Zed the Figure Behind Syafruddin Prawiranegara Becomes a National Hero

After the publication of the book SIJ-PDRI many ideas, and also anxiety Mestika Zed absorbed by the government at that time. Among his anxieties was about the dwindling number of writers and authors in West Sumatra. In fact, since the first West Sumatra (Minangkabau) is known as a warehouse of writers, authors and writers leading Indonesia. He is also restless with the low appreciation and appreciation of people who are meritorious and have participated in the name of West Sumatra or Minangkabau.

Mestika Zed's thoughts and anxiety, then answered by the local government with two activities. First, it provides assistance for writers and authors to publish their works. This policy but quite welcomed by the writers, authors and writers as a form of appreciation of the local government for their works. The local government forms a committee or committee chaired by Prof. Mestika Zed itself with members, among others, Prof. Dr. Yaswirman (UNAND) and senior journalist and writer Hasril Chaniago (Asnan, 2019).

As for the aspirations of Mestika Zed about a reasonable award for national figures, especially those from West Sumatra, shown by The Local Government by providing support for the proposal of a national hero candidate. One of them is Mr. Syafruddin Prawiranegara and Prof. Mestika Zed is also intensively involved in the process. Finally, Syafruddin Prawiranegara figure origin/bloody Minangkabau was designated as a national hero on November 7, 2011, based on Presidential Decree No.113/TK/2011.

Mestika Zed the Historian Behind the Emergence of National Defense Day

The most important services and legacy of the historian Prof. Dr. Mestika Zed for the Republic of Indonesia and the province of West Sumatra in particular is the establishment of December 19 as the State Defense Day. HBN is Indonesia's historic day to commemorate the declaration of Emergency Government of the Republic of Indonesia (PDRI) by Mr. Sjafruddin Prawiranegara in Halaban, West Sumatra, on December 19, 1948, HBN as a national holiday set by President Susilo Bambang Yudhoyono with Presidential Decree No. 28 of 2006 on December 18, 2006.

After publishing a complete book entitled Somewhere in the Jungle: emergency Government of the Republic of Indonesia, A Forgotten link in history. The book is a master piece by historian Prof. Dr. Must Be Zed, M.A. published 1997. Mestika Zed is the first historian to reveal the history of PDRI in a complete and comprehensive, written in a very interesting way, until now the book is still the main book in discussing the existence of PDRI centered in Minangkabau (Nopriyasman, 2021).

Thanks to the book, the opportunity has been reopened to fight for the PDRI event to have a proper place in Indonesian national history. It is no longer viewed simply as a local historical event that took place in an area. The Momentum arrived in early 2006, when Gamawan Fauzi served as governor of West Sumatra. At that time, Bukittinggi City, the first place to trigger the PDRI, was chosen by President Susilo Bambang Yudhoyono and Malaysian Prime Minister Abdullah Ahmad Badawi as the venue for the Indonesia-Malaysia bilateral meeting.

Welcoming the visit, Gamawan Fauzi as the governor of West Sumatra at that time invited community leaders to accommodate suggestions and suggestions that need to be submitted directly to the President. Present among others Lkaam management led by H.K.R. Dt. P. Simulie, Bundo Kanduang led by Hj. Rangkayo Nur Ainas Abizar, Yayasan Peduli Perjuangan PDRI led by Thamrin Manan, S.H., as well as the board of PWI, the chief editor and senior journalists of West Sumatra. All mass organizations and community groups were proposed to be able to have an audience with President Yudhoyono. Coincidently, all agreed that one of the things that would be conveyed was to propose directly to the president in order to establish the position of the PDRI in the history of the Republic of Indonesia.

At the request of the governor and the support of Vice Chairman of DPD Ri Mr. Irman Gusman delivered through the Cabinet Secretary Lt. Sudi Silalahi, President yby agreed to accept the audience of three delegates of the people of West Sumatra on January 12, 2006. The first delegation consisted of the leaders of LKAAM, MUI, and Bundo Kanduang. The second delegation consisted of the Pdri Foundation and DHD Force 45 West Sumatera. While the third delegation is 12 PWI administrators, editor-in-chief, and senior journalists. In receiving the three delegates at the Bung Hatta Bukittingi State Palace, President yby asked Vice Chairman of DPD Irman Gusman and I as the governor to accompany him (Asnan, 2019).

As in the previous “diskenario”, in addition to conveying various aspirations and hopes to the heads of State, the spokespersons of the three delegations always inserted a request for the president to determine the position of the PDRI in the history of the Indonesian independence struggle and the PDRI's birthday should be commemorated nationally. Responding positively to the proposal, after receiving the third delegation (PWI, pemred and senior journalists) who also proposed the same thing, the president immediately ordered presidential spokesman Andi Malaranggeng to immediately contact the Minister of State Secretary Yusril Ihwa Mahendra to appear before the president after Pak SBY returned to Jakarta, the president also asked Andi to record the points to be submitted to the Minister of State. That is to ask the opinions of senior historians and organize a national seminar on PDRI at three leading Indonesian universities: Gajah Mada University Yogyakarta, University of Indonesia, and Andalas University Padang.

As we later found out, Minister of State for State Affairs Yusril Ihza also carried out the presidential order. Invited senior historians, and organized seminars on PDRI in the three universities mentioned. Long story short, at the Nusantara Day commemoration held in Padang on December 14, 2006, the president called Gamawan Fauzi and informed him that he had signed Presidential Decree (Keppres) No. 28 which establishes the pdri declaration day on December 19, 1948 as the State Defense day as a national holiday instead of a holiday. The first HBN commemoration was centered in Bukittinggi on 19 December 2006 with the inspector of ceremonies of the Minister of Defense Purnomo Yusgiantoro (Asnan, 2019).

The determination of PDRI's birthday as HBN, one of which is thanks to the services and work of historian Prof. Must Be Zed. Because his book, Somewhere in the Jungle: PDRI, the forgotten link of history, became the main reference in a series of PDRI national seminars, and finally became the basis for the President's consideration to set the date of the PDRI declaration of December 19, 1948 as State Defense Day.

CONCLUSION
